

MARQUETTE TRAIL HISTORY HIKE

An 1820 expedition of scientific exploration encamped at the Portage while circuiting the Northwest Territories. The stories of this expedition captivated the imagination of a young lady named Juliette Magill who vowed to one day experience the West. Ten years later she did just that as the wife of Indian Agent John Kinzie. See the upper Fox River through the eyes of the 1820 Cass expedition and experience Portage in a unique way on the Marquette Trail.
